Is your case reported?

How to differentiate between reported, unreported, authorised and unauthorised versions of a case

Unreported judgment
> AGLC Rule 2.2.2 states that a reported version of a case should be cited in preference to an unreported version

Unauthorised report
> Law reports can be subject specific or general
> May be the only reported source for many cases
> AGLC Rule 2.2.2 states that generalist report series should be cited in preference to subject specific

Authorised report
> Report series designated as the authorised series for a particular court
> AGLC rule 2.2.2 states that if a judgment has been published in an authorised report that series should be cited

ANU Law Library — for more information visit libguides.anu.edu.au/law